Day 2 Qingdao ~

Former German Governor's Residence (Closed on Monday)

The Former German Governor's Residence is a landmark of German colonial architecture in Qingdao, built during the German concession period. Featuring Renaissance and Baroque styles, it is a well-preserved historic site and a popular spot for cultural exploration and photography.

Badaguan Scenic Area

Also known as the "Exhibition of International Architecture," featuring Russian, English, French, and other European-style villas. Surrounded by blooming crabapple and peach blossoms, some streets also have cherry blossoms alongside old houses. With "red tiles, green trees, blue sea, and."

No. 2 Bathing Beach

Fine sandy beach, gentle sea breeze, cherry and crabapple blossoms along the shore, matched with blue seawater--extremely soothing.

Tsingtao Beer Museum (Including Beer Tasting + Complimentary Peanuts)

The Tsingtao Beer Museum, built with an investment of 28 million RMB, covers an exhibition area of over 6,000 sqm. Housed in the century-old brewery and equipment, the museum highlights Tsingtao Beer's century-long history and brewing process. It integrates cultural.

Guangxingli

A classic example of Qingdao's old courtyard houses, built in a distinctive "回" layout. Walking the stone-paved lanes offers both the charm of old Qingdao and springtime beauty, with fewer crowds.

Dabaodao Historic Area

A preserved century-old neighborhood with vintage cobblestone streets and old-style street lamps. Colorful hydrangea and bougainvillea bloom along the lanes--perfect for photos, combining "heritage + fashion + spring scenery."

Day 3 Qingdao ~ Yantai

Changyu Castel Chateau (including wine tasting + DIY brandy bottle)

One of China's landmark wineries, combining vineyards, century-old underground wine cellars, traditional workshops, and romantic European architecture. Experience winemaking stories and enjoy a hands-on activity: blend and take home your own mini bottle of brandy.

Fisherman's Wharf

The only natural island connected to land in Yantai city, with three sides surrounded by sea. Famous for its "Spirited Away" style railway extending into the ocean. Perfect spot for anime-inspired photos, especially at high tide.

Popular Photo Spot - Suochengli Historic Area

One of Yantai's oldest neighborhoods, blending ancient architecture with modern cultural creativity. With 600 years of history, it preserves marks from the Ming and Qing dynasties to treaty-port times. Blue bricks, winding alleys, and heritage buildings make it a hotspot.
